

Werewolf: A Half-Kasen
by Daryann Birt & Amanda Bivens, Millikin University
May 1, 2018

Werewolf

backroad driving
windows down
hair flying

DB

sunshine kissing
my face

AB

turning to you
locking eyes
our smiles matching

DB

the leaves on the trees
blow with the wind

AB

howls of the night
looking up at
. . . the moon

DB

in the dark woods
an owl hoots

AB

•

in the dead of night
the fog thickens
in the old cemetery

AB

scary movie
hiding my face

DB

the music intensifies
I jump
popcorn everywhere

AB

laughing at myself
for jumping

DB

always a good time
hanging out
laughing with friends

AB

laughs are good
. . . for the soul

DB

•

moonlit stroll
laughing with
my lover

DB

the light reflecting
from his eyes

AB

smiling at her
he gets down
on his knees

DB

her smile as bright
as the glimmer from the ring

AB

shining beauty
as she walks down
the isle

DB

the cherry blossoms
marking the new path
for their new life together

AB

• • •

Amanda Bivens - ab
Daryann Birt - db